Poor preparations, high expectations

Nepali athletes, who did so well in the last SAF Games, have little chance to shine this time around due to official apathy and budget cuts.

As the Women’s Bill edges closer to becoming law, a new interpretation describes the provisions of the Mahila Act.

The Mahila Act, intended to address gender discrimination against women and provide legal safeguards against various forms of gender-based violence, is being debated in the Nepali Parliament. A new interpretation of the bill, which is expected to be tabled in the upcoming session of the parliament, aims to strengthen the provisions related to women’s rights and reduce instances of gender-based violence. The bill, which includes provisions on sexual harassment, domestic violence, and dowry prohibition, is anticipated to provide additional protections for women. The new interpretation is expected to address concerns raised by various stakeholders, including human rights organizations and women’s rights advocates, who have expressed concerns about the original bill’s effectiveness in preventing and惩治 gender-based violence.
